Palm Beach County Officials
Award Coveted Airport Site to Drive Shack

– Local job creation, economic investment and support from surrounding business community helped secure land for new sports entertainment complex, opening in 2018 –

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla., Sept. 26, 2017 -- Today, Drive Shack formally announced plans to open a new golf entertainment complex in Palm Beach, after Palm Beach County officials awarded the organization a site on Palm Beach International Airport property. Drive Shack's approximately 60,000 square foot, three-level facility expected to open in 2018 is projected to create more than 500 permanent positions and construction jobs. Following a competitive process that began in January, Drive Shack worked alongside local civic, education and business leaders to identify local resources that will help them meet and exceed their economic impact and hiring targets.

"The addition of Drive Shack to Palm Beach County is exciting for us at PBI as it offers a fun activity that can be planned around travel," said Bruce Pelly, Airport Director for Palm Beach International Airport. "Our goal is to provide an easy, convenient and stress free experience and we are confident that Drive Shack's close proximity to PBI will be of interest to our travelers. We are excited about our new partnership and welcome Drive Shack to The Palm Beaches."

Alongside internal professional development programs, Drive Shack plans to establish formal partnerships with local colleges, universities and business organizations, ensuring the hires it will make draw from the area's diverse talent pool. Through a mix of internships, part- and full-time positions, the Palm Beach complex will also be home to hands-on educational experiences with industry-leading technology.

"Drive Shack's vision is to be more than a place where everyone in the community comes together to have fun, but a destination the community is proud to have within its confines. To make that a reality for the greater Palm Beach area, we knew we needed to be rooted in the community beyond hiring and partnering locally," said Sarah Watterson, Chief Executive Officer, Drive Shack Inc. "The support Drive Shack has received since January from our neighbors and partners has been inspiring, and in return we hope to be one of the many reasons why Palm Beach County is one of the best places to live, work and visit."

Once completed, Drive Shack's three-level golf entertainment complex will have 96 climate-controlled hitting bays that can each hold up to six people, as well as more than 2,500 square feet of corporate and group event space. Drive Shack is reimagining the traditional driving range concept with advanced technology and increased ways to play for everyone from scratch golfers to those who do not spend any time on the fairways. Guests will be able to hit golf balls using complimentary TaylorMade clubs into a 220-yard outfield and then track their flight using Drive Shack's gaming and software platform – to practice and play. Guests visiting just to catch a game on TV may also enjoy full-service food and beverage options throughout the venue or on the second-floor sports bar and restaurant. On the third floor, guests will also have access to a family-friendly gaming lounge with table and arcade games, as well as an adjacent, open-air rooftop terrace and lounge.
